INTRODUCTION

Onepile Foundation has been committed to promoting youth participation in international dialogues on digital inclusion, sustainability, and education. Through our Youth Ambassador Programme, we empower young leaders aged 14-19 to engage in meaningful discussions at the global level.

In 2024, we participated in the United Nations Internet Governance Forum (IGF) for the first time, creating opportunities for youth to share their voices on digital governance, literacy, and sustainability.

This report highlights our key activities and achievements at IGF 2024 (Riyadh), providing insights into our programme and inviting secondary schools and organizations to participate in future initiatives.

Lightning Talk #57:

SDG Book Club & Digital Initiatives for Inclusive Sustainability.

In 2024, we built on our previous work by deepening our commitment to youth literacy and sustainability. The focus of our Lightning Talk was:

- 1 Using literature and digital tools to promote the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
- 2 Encouraging youth to engage in inclusive reading through the SDG Book Club, with curated book lists aligned with each SDG.
- 3 Presenting the Amber Station Project, a digital toolkit to guide youth in organizing book clubs and community initiatives.

YOUTH AMBASSADOR ROLES

Our Youth Ambassadors (aged 12-21) took on leadership roles:

- 1 Introducing the SDG Book Club to IGF attendees from different countries.
- 2 Conducting on-site demonstrations and book exchanges.
- 3 Sharing their personal journeys on how reading and digital tools inspired them to take action on global issues.
- 4 Representing Hong Kong youth on a global stage, fostering cross-cultural dialogue and understanding.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

- 1 Promoting reading culture in the digital age requires both online platforms and offline activities.
- 2 Youth leadership in SDG advocacy is a powerful tool for inclusive community building.
- 3 Building bridges between educators, policymakers, and youth leaders is essential for sustainable change.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- 1 Introduce SDG Book Club to more schools and community centers.
- 2 Facilitated cross-border collaboration between youth leaders and educators around the world.
- 3 Established partnerships for resource-sharing and joint projects aligned with SDG 4 (Quality Education) and SDG 17 (Partnerships for the Goals).

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

We are now recruiting youth ambassadors and educators to participate. We invite:

- 1 Secondary schools to nominate students aged 14-19.
- 2 Teachers and principals to collaborate with us in guiding the next generation of youth leaders.
- 3 NGOs and community organizations in SDG-related initiatives.

WHY JOIN?

- 1 Represent your school and Hong Kong at an international forum.
- 2 Empower students to become youth advocates for digital inclusion and sustainability.
- 3 Participate in SDG Book Club events and cross-border collaborations.

Over the past 2 years, Onepile Foundation has demonstrated the transformative power of youth participation in the global conversation on digital inclusion and sustainability. Through initiatives like the SDG Book Club and Amber Station, we are building a more inclusive, literate, and sustainable future.

We look forward to working with schools, teachers, and community leaders to empower the next generation of youth ambassadors at IGF 2025 and beyond!
